SUMMARY

Marketing and product professional with experience across client management, customer acquisition, product marketing, and AI-assisted product development. Comfortable moving between strategy and execution with a focus on consumer behavior, positioning, prototyping, and driving measurable business outcomes. Strong fit for Product Marketing, Growth, or Product Manager roles at companies where customer insight, technology, and go-to-market strategy intersect.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Product Developer | GunnarNeuman.com

Milwaukee, WI | Oct 2025 – Present

- Created and launched multiple early-stage software prototypes using AI-assisted development workflows, React, and TypeScript including an interview simulation app, a cryptocurrency token launchpad, a topography print studio, and a productivity dashboard.
- Used tools including Claude Code, Cursor, and Codex to move from concept to working prototype rapidly, developing hands-on fluency with modern AI development stacks.
- Evaluated customer problems, pricing structure, positioning, and go-to-market potential across software, service, and media concepts.
- Applied this work to sharpen a career direction at the intersection of product strategy, customer insight, AI-enabled tools, and measurable growth.

Founder | TouchPoint Marketing Solutions

Denver, CO | Mar 2023 – Oct 2025

- Managed full client lifecycle across discovery, strategy, execution, reporting, and ongoing optimization for clients across multiple industries.
- Drove customer acquisition through SEO, paid advertising, content strategy, eCommerce improvements, and conversion-focused campaigns by managing digital, audio, traditional, relational, and direct mail channels.
- Used Google Analytics and other campaign reporting workflows to identify opportunities, refine strategy, and communicate ROI and performance outcomes to clients.
- Evolved from tactical execution toward higher-level client strategy; focusing on business goals, timelines, budgets, and measurable growth opportunities.

Sales Rotational Program | Sub-Zero Group, Inc.

Madison, WI | Jun 2020 – Feb 2023

- Selected as the inaugural candidate for a 2.5-year rotational program across sales operations, product marketing, product launch, showroom sales, and dealer sales.
- Supported product positioning and launch execution through competitive research, naming, imagery, copy, and sales materials.
- Trained external sales teams on custom Power BI reports, improving access to sales insights and data-informed decision-making.
- Delivered luxury showroom sales experiences, helping customers evaluate product fit, design choices, and full kitchen packages.
- Supported external dealer relationships through training, sales materials, product knowledge, and market-facing support.
